HH PPS 2012: Sorting Out the Details

Thursday, December 8, 2011 • 1:00 – 2:00 PM EST

What does the new rule say about satisfying the Face-to-Face requirement? When are Occupational Therapy services considered as dependent or qualifying services? What is the definition of homebound status? The PPS Final Rule for 2012 has provided clarification to each of these questions. While financial managers are worrying about the continued payment reductions for CY 2012, providers must protect their agencies from further loss of revenue by documenting and delivering home care to patients who meet the Medicare eligibility and payment criteria. Take advantage of this opportunity to review and ensure that clinical staff understands these essential Medicare rules in this must attend 60 minute webinar session.

Therapy Utilization: Getting it Right

Thursday, December 15, 2011 • 1:00 – 2:00 PM EST

Now that PPS 2012 is final, it is essential that agencies carefully consider the potential impact that therapy utilization has on an agency's financial viability. Although some may say there are "incentives" to focus on particular numbers of visits, we all know that issues with this in the past have raised serious concerns regarding what drives therapy practice patterns. This session will examine the therapy related areas of PPS in detail, reaffirm best practices for reassessment compliance, and provide specific guidance to prepare for success in 2012.
